Mother, daughter fortunate to be alive

'I close my eyes and I can still see it,' mother says

By BEN HYATT, NEWS WRITER

An injury accident on US 62 West Monday evening left two vehicles damaged and one mother very thankful.

A 911 call was made around 5 p.m., Monday, April 23, for an injury accident on US 62 near Switzer Pike.

According to Harrison County Sheriff's Deputy Dean Hutchison, a 2000 GM flatbed truck was traveling toward Cynthiana with a load of large construction parts when a chain used to strap the parts down snapped.

"It happened so fast," said Denise Lyons, who was headed to Georgetown with one of her twin daughters, Addeston, on Monday evening.

Lyons recalls very little of what happened, but she knows she is grateful that it wasn't any worse than it was.

Addeston, 7, had been selected to ride in a charity horse event at the Kentucky Horse Park. Lyons was on her way to Georgetown for Addeston's photo shoot. Addeston's sister, Kori, stayed behind with their grandmother, Pat Ternune.

According to Hutchison, when the chain snapped, two large heavy duty dump truck transmissions were thrown from the bed of the truck and toward Lyons. The estimated weight of each transmission is between 3,500 and 4,000 pounds.

"I remember it looked like something was leaning off the flat bed," Lyons said.

A second later, she felt the impact against her body. "It hit me before it hit anything," Lyons said of the semi's load that struck her side of the van. "I thought maybe the truck had hit me."

Lyons said she cannot explain why she let Addeston ride in the front seat Monday and she doesn't want to think about what might have happened had she been in the middle seat behind Lyons where she normally sits.

"That's not even there anymore," Lyons said of Addeston's regular seat. "We are very blessed."

She said after the impact, she remembers a woman pulling along side her vehicle to make sure everyone was alright and to let Lyons know that 911 had been called.

A second vehicle, which followed behind Lyons, was also struck by one of the transmissions during the accident.

"Michael Raymond was driving behind the van and was clipped by one of the transmissions," said Hutchison. "The transmission actually ended up bouncing over the second vehicle before coming to a rest in a nearby field."

Hutchison noted one of the transmissions traveled over a quarter of a mile before coming to rest.

"These people were very lucky," said Hutchison. "If they had been there a second before they were, we could have been dealing with something much more serious than it ended being."

Lyons and her daughter were treated by Harrison Memorial staff and released later that evening with no major injuries.

Raymond was given aid on scene by Brown's EMS.

State's new road plan calls for revamping of deadly curves

By BECKY BARNES, EDITOR

Two deadly curves in Harrison County will soon be gone.

Included in the state's 2012-14 biennial highway plan, a U.S. 62 East curve where two Harrison County High School students were killed in 2010 and a U.S. 27 North "S" curve that claimed the life of a Butler woman last year are slated for reconstruction.

Although the projects are scheduled for design with right-of-way purchases and utility relocation in 2012-13, state Rep. Tom McKee said funding for the construction will have to come in the next budgeting cycle.

The U.S. 27 project, which is located between mile posts 11.9 and 12.4, is expected to cost $1.350 million in just the design, rights of way and utility relocation.

Design, rights of way and utility relocated on the U.S. 62 project is estimated to have a $700,000 price tag.

McKee said determining Harrison County's projects to push in the general assembly were the result of a meeting with Harrison County Judge-Executive Alex Barnett.

In addition to the reconstruction projects, Harrison County will also have a bridge replacement on Stratton Road. However, it will also have to wait until the next budget for construction funds.

A $150,000 design will be made in fiscal year 2013, which begins July 1, 2012, followed in 2014 with $50,000 for rights of way and utility work.

A $1.5 million price tag for construction this year has been placed on a bridge reconstruction on KY 36, four miles west of Cynthiana, over Mill Creek.

"It's a one-stop shop," Jenkins said. "Everything is all under one roof."

She said it will be a great time to shop for Mothers' Day or Derby parties.

Donald Northcutt

Northcutt is Chamber's Businessman of the Year

By BECKY BARNES, EDITOR

He's a humble man who claims he's worked hard all of his life... a lesson he learned from his father.

Donald Northcutt, 52, is an entrepreneur. He was honored as the Chamber of Commerce's Businessman of the Year, but he's more than that. He is an inventor, a landlord, a licensed mover, furniture and carpet salesman, husband, father, brother and son.

He is also a Kentucky Colonel, an honor bestowed by the late Sen. Ed and Dorothy Ford, after he helped them move from Pike Street to their U.S. 27 North home.

Dorothy thought that Dr. Ford had taken care of their cash stash between their mattresses. And, Dr. Ford believed that Dorothy had the money.

It was Donald that found the extensive stash

Extension Today

In Harrison County, your Cooperative Extension Service is growing ideas that make a difference in your life, your family, and your community. We have a dedicated staff of trained professionals delivering educational programs in agriculture and natural resources, family and consumer sciences, 4-H youth development, and community and economic development. The Harrison County Cooperative Extension Office is your connection to the University of Kentucky and the world.

You'll see some key numbers in this report. But the numbers don't show you the people or the impact of our work. So the rest of this report shows the faces behind some of the numbers.

Bill Roberts, with one of the many youth 4-H participants served during his tenure.

of dedicated services he has given to the families and youth in Harrison County will be scheduled soon, so be looking for the date in the future.

"Having the opportunity to watch 4-H youth and adults develop into honest and dedicated volunteers with great integrity has been one of the most satisfying experiences in my career," Bill said.

Prior to his retirement, Bill welcomed and trained his replacement, Mike Meyer, as the new 4-H/Youth Development Agent. Mike is from Harrison County and was in 4-H in his youth. He graduated from Harrison County High School in 2004 and has a degree in Animal Science from the University of Kentucky. For the past 3 years he has been the Franklin County 4-H Agent.

Mike Meyer

Youth Development Program

The Harrison Co. 4-H Youth Development Program provided educational activities to 1,263 youth ages 9 - 19 during 2010-2011, through 4-H projects and activities.

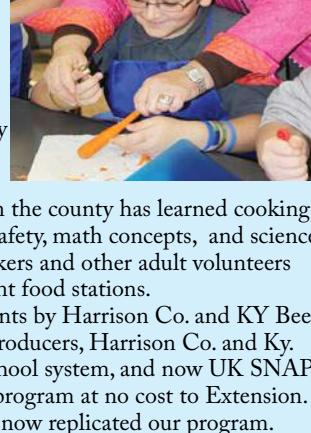

Educational topics include 4-H Citizenship and Leadership Development, 4-H Consumer and Family Projects, Clothing and Textiles, Animal Science Projects, Livestock Judging, Communications Skills, and many more.

Several 4-H members, including Brady Prows, Katie Sowder, Erin Bradford, Luke Arthur, Derek Bell, Lincoln Clifford and Jacob Barns, won awards and recognition at state and national 4-H competitions during the year, and many others participated.

Recipe for (Reading) Life

Because many families today have two working parents and busy schedules, they frequently buy prepared meals or convenience foods; we've found that this has resulted in a lack of cooking skills among young people.

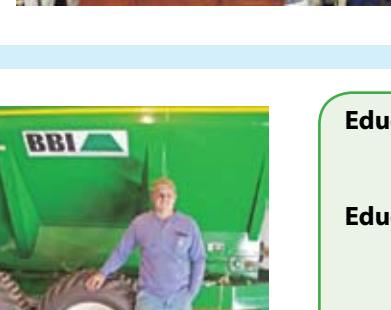

Recipe for (Reading) Life began as a Homemaker Literacy Project to teach elementary age children to read recipes. Since 2006, every 5th grade student in the county has learned cooking and organizational skills, food safety, math concepts, and science principles. Over 100 Homemakers and other adult volunteers mentored children at 10 different food stations.

Through funding from grants by Harrison Co. and KY Beef Cattle Associations, KY Pork Producers, Harrison Co. and Ky. Extension Homemakers, the school system, and now UK SNAP-Ed, we are able to conduct the program at no cost to Extension. Five counties in Kentucky have now replicated our program.

Kentucky 4-H Capitol Experience

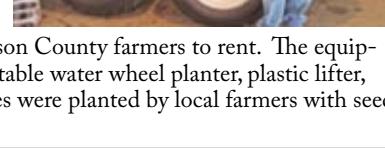

Harrison County 4-H'ers participated in the annual Kentucky 4-H Capitol Experience on February 17, 2011 in Frankfort. In the 8 years since this Citizenship and Leadership Development program began, more than 120 Harrison County 4-H'ers have attended. Participants meet with their State Representatives, sit in on State Committee meetings, House and Senate sessions and receive greetings from the Governor's Office. This activity teaches 4-H members how our State Government conducts business and encourages them to consider getting involved in politics. 4-H'ers are also exposed to great architecture, monuments, the Kentucky State Capitol Grounds and historical sites in Frankfort.

Ag Services Offered

Soil Testing: The Extension Office completed over 900 soil tests in 2011, a 15% increase from last year. With the change in agriculture emphasis from tobacco to grain and pasture improvement, it is essential that farmers choose carefully when purchasing fertilizer for their crops, and soil tests help them to do that.

Equipment Sharing: The Phase I Shared Use Equipment program is a tremendous service that makes a variety of farm equipment available for Harrison County farmers to rent. The equipment consists of seeders, sprayers, plastic layers, a vegetable water wheel planter, plastic lifter, livestock panels, chutes and scales. This year 2100 acres were planted by local farmers with seeders rented from the Extension Office.

Ag Development (Phase I)

The Harrison County Ag Development Committee has completed the 2011 year of funding. The county allocated $565,000 for projects and over $502,000 was used. Of the 244 applications received, 72% (175) were approved.

From the 175 approvals, 90% participated in the cost share program. That is an average of $2,860 per individual producer.

The program is based upon a 50/50 cost share with each approved farmer and Phase I providing half the cost up to an $8000 maximum.

In many cases the farmer who used their entire $4000 allocation actually spent more of their own money than the maximum amount required.

The Phase I program has helped farmers grow and prosper, and the benefits extend to folks that are supplying the materials for their projects, thus stimulating the Ag economy. This has been an excellent program for the farmers of Harrison County and we hope it will continue in the future.

harryCYN

Lost in Yonkers

Showing Thursday, Friday, Saturday at Rohs Opera House

BY BEN HYATT, NEWS WRITER

The harriCYN Community Theater will present Neil Simon's "Lost in Yonkers" Friday and Saturday, April 27-28, at the historical Rohs Opera House.

Now with two major productions under the belt of the harriCYN Community Theater, Director Bill Caywood looks to add to the growing success of Rohs by taking audiences back to 1942 in Yonkers, NY, where they will be left laughing and crying the night away.

"Our original production selection was Death of a Salesman," said producer and co-owner of Rohs Missy Lutz.

"However, we ran into some casting issues and so then decided to go with Lost in Yonkers."

Lost In Yonkers, which is set during World War II, focuses on Jay Kurnitz, a young man who is left by his father Eddie, with his abusive and unpleasant immigrant grandmother as he searches for work to pay a loan shark.

While in the care of his grandmother, Jay and his younger brother Arty, meet their Aunt Belle, played by Jenny Lynn Hatter, and endure the increasing amount of dysfunction that seems to plague the family.

"Jenny is amazing in playing the part of Belle," said Lutz of Jenny Lynn Varner Hatter. "There is nothing she can't do and her performance may be the hardest of the entire cast to pull off. But she sure is capable of doing so."

Lutz added that the entire cast, which includes Greg Shirley, Tonya Wagoner, Karen Adams, Jackson Sanders, James Smith and Hatter, are all from Harrison County.

"We like the fact that our cast is made from Harrison County residents, but in the future we hope to stretch out and include other talents from other communities as well," said Lutz.

Lutz said due to the growing use of Rohs Opera House, a fall production will not be offered.

"Last year we were able to put on two shows, however with the schedule booking so quickly it will not be the same this year," said Lutz. "I wish we could put more productions on but it is very time consuming for the actors and the stage crew."

Lutz said the production will be somewhat different from past productions in the fact that the scenes hardly ever change.

"The scene is pretty much the same through the entire play," said Lutz. "We are depending more on the acting than the stage scenes for this production."

The play will open this week on Thursday for a "student night," where tickets can be bought by students for $5.

"We will have a question and answer segment following the play for the students," said Lutz. "This is a way to get them more involved hopefully."

Open performances will be Friday and Saturday. Tickets can be bought for $10 at Biancke's Restaurant located on Main Street. A limited number of tickets will be available at the door providing the shows are not sold out.

Lost in Yonkers was awarded the 1991 Pulitzer Prize for Drama and the 1991 Tony Award for Best Play.

Thank You! Thank You!

The Lions Club would like to thank everyone who helped support the 55th Annual Lions Club Charity Auction. The 2011 auction was a great success thanks to the many people who donated items, placed bids, gave cash donations or gave their time.

The Hole-In-One contest, for the $50,000 cash, took place on Monday, April 23, 2012 at the Cynthiana Country Club. There was lots of excitement when Howard McCullough's ball, shot by Ryan Howard, came within 3 feet of the hole. Although no one won the $50,000 cash prize, Howard was the proud winner of $100 for his ball coming the closest to the hole.

Amber Philpott-Hill was the lucky winner of the big screen TV and surround sound donated by Terry & Cindy Jones of A-Action Pest Control.

The money raised through this year's auction will allow us to continue our charitable work, including funding eye exams, glasses and surgeries. Thank you again for your support. If you're interested in joining the Lions Club, contact any Lions Club member.

Classmates gather for CHS 50th-year reunion

Flipping through the pages of an old leather bond yearbook, one will see many faces.

How they went and where they went to high school is much different from how many others have gone.

Many of the names are not remembered and some have gone on to do great things that stamp their names in the pages of history forever.

In 1962, a tradition was put to rest that began back in September 1872.

That tradition included teaching students in the graded areas of Latin, analysis, surveying, mental philosophy and history.

Classmates from Cynthiana High School will once again meet as they always do for their class reunion, only this time the number of years since the school merged has some significance that is generally put with the number 50.

In fact, it has been exactly 50 years since the last class graduated from Cynthiana High School.

Pat Penniman or as she is better known to her fellow classmates "Patsy

Ben Hyatt
News Writer

Mae Toadvine," will be one of those Cynthiana High School graduates that will enjoy the fellowship of her alma mater attendees.

"I am not sure why we are putting such an emphasis into the 50 years since the school closed, but if you think about it, it does only happen once," said Penniman.

I spoke with Pat about school life during her high school career and how the school took great pride in tradition.

She spoke about how during every home football and basketball game the band would line-up in the streets of Cynthiana for a parade; how the gym was located on the second floor of the school and boys were never permitted to enter the gym while the girls were participating in physical education class.

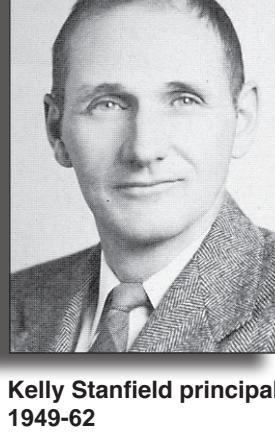

As she continued to talk about how things used to be, I found myself enjoying more and more as she rattled off the long history of Cynthiana High.

Most amazingly, I learned that our beloved Joe B. Hall graduated from the high school in 1947 when long tenured W. H. Cason was acting principal.

David Pressmen and Louis Stout were also among the many students that walked the halls of Cynthiana High at one time or another.

Pat was also nice enough to let me borrow a few yearbooks.

As I flipped through the pages for what seemed an hour, I kept becoming more intrigued as I saw faces that I knew from the community.

Kelly Stanfield principal

Charlie Fiex, Lowell Clifford, Rita Glasscock and Jack Keith were just a few names I was able to sift through.

This all got me to thinking how a young reporter would feel about writing about my class one day.

I know some of my fellow classmates have gone on to do good things and some others not so much.

How will others see me one day after being out of school for 50 years?

"Everyone must leave something behind when he dies . . . Something your hand touched some way so your soul has somewhere to go when you die . . . It doesn't matter what you do, so long as you change something from the way it was before you touched it into something that's like you after you take your hands away," by Ray Bradbury.

Licking Valley Singers

To the editor:

The Golden Age of Rock and Roll was a great success. The weather was cool, but the concerts brought forth warm memories as we traveled back 50 years to a more innocent time when "bobby socks and poodle skirts" were in vogue.

The Licking Valley Singers offer its deep appreciation for the love and support of the faithful patrons, the many individual volunteers and the corporate sponsors who contributed their time, talents and resources to make this concert one that will be remembered.

Mark your calendar for Nov. 9 and 11 when Licking Valley Singers will present its fall concert entitled "A Choral Kaleidoscope."

Problems with gas and employment

To the editor:

I had occasion to drive north this week and as is my normal practice, looked for lower gas prices than those we enjoy in Harrison County. I found $3.89 a gallon in Falmouth, $3.79 a gallon in Cold Springs and $3.63 a gallon in Columbus, Ohio. I guess it's that evaporation and distance from the refineries again.

I also noticed quite a few signs advertising incumbent or want-to-be trough swillers, but none of them show party affiliation. Are they ashamed? I certainly can understand why.

I've had occasion to consider voting for Romney in our upcoming election, except for a couple of things. I've researched. In order to increase employment in this country I see two ways: Union busting so our payrolls are competitive with China's 60-hour minimum work week at maximum monthly salary of less than $500 and similar situations in Vietnam, Indonesia and India; the other way would be such tremendous tax benefits to companies that the whole country would self destruct.

Also, I've read the history of Mormonism, about its founder being a criminal and a drunk and receiving his revelation in a New York City alley. I've read about the gold tablets, white salamanders, magic underwear, the preparedness pantries, and all the other foibles. It's a little frightening to say the least.

I thought our city fathers were going to do some research on gas prices here. Haven't seen any follow up. I thought I would recommend that since it's obvious they have our best interest at heart they go ahead and vote in the smoke free program instead of suggesting that the whiners practice their right to a choice and go elsewhere. That way we would have another reason (besides gas prices) to leave the city. Other than our beloved Thrift (and I'm not a smoker), on weekends we go to The Chatterbox in Falmouth and Sam's in Georgetown. If you believe what is said about the percentage of smoke here, I've got 40 acres for sale that's certainly smoke free.

A gem to the community

To the editor:

Our community has a "gem" not too far from the heart of downtown Cynthiana and several runners this weekend got a chance to glimpse it.

The Chamber's Earth Day one-mile for Kids and 5K were held out at the Cynthiana-Harrison County Airport. What a beautiful facility the new terminal is and how incredibly fortunate we are to have such an airport in our county. Several of our runners were from out of town, but even many of our Harrison County runners hadn't realized we had such a gem. In spite of the rain, Harrison County looked beautiful.

Cynthiana Museum is a must visit

To the editor:

This past Saturday, we came to your town to attend the Raggedy Ann Festival. It was nice despite the weather. As we were going back through town, we saw a sign on an old theater saying "Museum." We decided to stop, and let me tell you we were so glad we did.

The two gentlemen and lady that were there were so eager to share any information about the town and founding fathers, and the detailed displays clearly shows the pride they have in their community. Any local people that have not seen this museum, or may not have visited recently, it is well worth the trip. The truly amazing thing is that it is free.

Sleeping teen's vehicle taken from Nunnelley Road prom party

BY BEN HYATT, NEWS WRITER

A car was stolen from a post prom party on Nunnelley Road in southern Harrison County.

According to the Harrison County Sheriff's Department, an automobile was reported stolen on Sunday, April 22, following a prom party.

"I responded to 148 Nunnelley Road in reference to a stolen vehicle," said Harrison County Sheriff's Deputy Robert Peak. "When I arrived, I met with the mother and her son, who had borrowed the car from his father to drive his date to the prom the previous night."

Peak said Karmelea Puckett, the mother of the juvenile whose car was stolen, made the initial report the following morning after her son called her to inform her of the vehicle's disappearance.

"Apparently the juvenile fell asleep at the party around 2 a.m., and when he woke up, his tennis shoes, which held his cellphone and keys, were missing," said Peak. "The young man went outside and then found his father's 2008 Saturn Aura XE gone from where he had parked it."

Peak said the estimated value of the stolen vehicle is $18,000.

Peak said he also contacted the owner of the vehicle, John Puckett, in order to obtain the necessary information to enter the vehicle stolen.

Peak reported that he also spoke to all witnesses who were still present at the party when he arrived.

Peak said the car has still not been located and no one has been charged in the crime of theft for the vehicle however, all possible leads are being looked at.

The case is listed as still under investigation.

Northcutt

along with a pistol and turned them over to their rightful owners.

For that, Donald earned his Colonel status. However, better than that, he said he was put on what he called "the society grape vine."

Because of his honesty, Dorothy told her friends, who told their friends and who ultimately grew his business.

"She is one of the people I credit with my moving business growing," he said. "She started a chain reaction."

Donald said he has fared well with his father's life lesson: Do jobs no one else wants to do, but do them well and conscientiously.

"Dad always wanted us to be self-sufficient," Donald said of M.E. Northcutt.

It was with that in mind that Donald set about earning some extra cash while he was still a student at Harrison County High School.

To earn some extra cash he would use a cattle truck and pick up trucks to move people from his father's rental property.

As time went on and he became an adult, still moving people for cash, he was approached by an elderly Mr. Custard who told him that to be a legitimate mover in Kentucky, you had to be licensed.

This was something new to Donald, but he agreed to Mr. Custard's terms that he get his license, he not undercut his mentor's prices and Mr. Custard would not report Donald for being unlicensed.

"It slowly developed into a living," Donald said, noting that it has not been without pitfalls.

The slowing housing market hit hard about three years ago and Donald had to lay off his moving crew.

During that period, he only accepted jobs that he could do alone or with one more person.

As the economy is beginning to rebound, Donald has brought back a moving crew and the business is once again building.

He has been a licensed mover for the last 24 years. Two years before he became licensed, he also opened Cynthiana Used Furniture.

He attributes his constant tugging and lugging of heavy furniture and appliances to his invention of the Buddy Dolly.

The Buddy Dolly is a moving system that takes the strain off of the body and aids in maneuvering heavy objects.

He manufactures these in his basement and has even done some door-to-door selling.

To date, the Buddy Dolly hasn't sold as well as he'd hoped, however, it has made his life much easier.

"It puts handles and wheels on anything that you're moving," he said.

Donald is the son of M.E. Northcutt of Robinson and Peggy Perry of Cynthiana. He is married to the former Kathy Kissinger, and he has one son, Andrew, 24. He also has one sister and three brothers, all of whom learned the same work-hard lesson from their father.

Sister Ana Mae Brooks is self employed as a bookkeeper, landlord, owner of an ice cream truck and Brooks Electric with her husband Jimmy.

Junior is self employed with commercial and residential rental property and is a partner in other commercial endeavors.

Brian works at Toyota and also is owner of rental property.

Randy is owner of Randy's Recycling as well as rental property.

Donald said each time his business gets hit with a crisis, from the housing market/economy to the 1997 flood that wiped him out, he has risen back up.

Creek.

The Union/Robinson bridge is also slated for replacement at a cost of $1.5 million.

The total costs for this project have been earmarked in this year's budget.

While there are no funds set aside as yet to improve the entrance at Harrison Memorial Hospital, $2.9 million is set aside in this budget for everything except the construction.

In total, road improvements for Harrison County amount to nearly $8 million.

Harrison County was also one of nine state road departments to be approved for a new maintenance facility and salt storage.

There will be $270,000 spent this year on the project followed next year with the $1.7 construction.

McKee described the new maintenance facility as a "caveat" for Harrison County. However, the other projects he deemed as safety improvements.

McKee said the state road crew does an excellent job with Harrison County's roads and this is one way of improving their working environment.

"We did real well with this budget," said McKee, noting that during the previous cycle Harrison County was allotted over $36 million for road improvements including a new viaduct and the bypass.

"I look forward to getting these finished," he said.

He added that there should be no reason hold up on construction funds for the projects in the next biennial budget.

"It will take that long to get this other work done and be ready for construction," McKee said.

And while Harrison County awaits funding for these projects, construction is continuing on the bypass with plans for some follow-up improvements to the new viaduct and its approaches.

McKee said he would like to see the southbound approach to the viaduct have a turning lane for Church Street and has addressed this need with the state road engineers.

He will bring me safely home

I am notorious for my lack of a sense of direction.

Just the other day one of our photographers at the newspaper caught me going south when I should've been going north to an assignment.

He laughed about it, as did I. But there have been many times I've given him wrong directions to an assignment and he hasn't laughed.

Even with a GPS and written directions I still get it wrong six out of 10 times.

I tend to go with my gut. I'll think, "I know I'm supposed to go north, but north feels like east, so I think I'd better go west." Only I don't use the names of the directions. I just turn right or left or go straight.

Yes, I know that doesn't make any sense, which is why I'm constantly getting lost. That's also why I've learned to keep a full tank of gas in my car. Once I ended up out of gas in a cauliflower field back in the days before cell phones and hitched a ride with a stranger.

Anyway, a few weeks ago I was invited to a breakfast meeting with some women from a church the next county over. I'd been to their town before, but not their church. Because I'm woefully directionally impaired, I printed out the Mapquest directions prior to leaving the house.

Unfortunately, I misread the time the breakfast meeting was scheduled to begin and left the house with only 15 minutes to get to the church 35 miles away.

Nancy Kennedy
Columnist

GRACE NOTES

Fortunately for cell phones, I called ahead and told the woman who had invited me that I'm an idiot and I'd be late, but I'd be there.

And then I headed east. I think. (Well, the sun was in my eyes.)

Like I said, I'd been to the town, but not to the church. So, I switched on my GPS and grabbed my printed directions — which didn't match the GPS directions — and trusted my inner compass, all of which got me lost.

I drove one road, the actual road the church was on, all the way to the end — the wrong end — and then turned around and drove it the other direction.

Both Mapquest and my GPS had said to go that way to begin with, and I did for about a half-mile, but for some reason it didn't feel right, so I turned around.

I should've kept going, because the church was ahead about another half-mile, but I didn't.

Meanwhile, the women had gone ahead and ate brunchy breakfasty stuff without me.

By the time I arrived, the meeting was almost over, but at least I made it. I didn't know anyone there and they had invited me to meet me in advance of an event they were having where I'm the guest speaker, so I'm not sure what kind of impression I made or if they'll wise up and dis-invite me.

However, they were gracious and fed me leftover fruit and muffins.

Now for the point of all my ramblings:

Many times when I'm driving and lost, I panic. Mostly I get angry at myself for messing up yet again. I think, "You're so stupid! When will you ever change? I hate this about you!"

I think I should be different; I should be better, but I'm not. Most likely I won't ever get any better at my sense of direction.

But that morning, even as I was driving around not sure of where to turn or not turn, I knew that God knew exactly where I was.

I stopped on the side of the road, took a breath and said, "Lord, you know where I need to go and I'm not sure if I'm ever going to make it there and it's getting scary. All I can do is trust you, which I know shouldn't be a last resort, but the first place I turn."

I put my car in gear and drove and made it to the place I needed to be.

It was and is a metaphor for my life.

"Prone to wander, Lord, I feel it," as the hymn goes.

I, too, am prone to wander and meander, go south when I should go north, turn this way instead of that way.

But I am confident that God will never let go of me, no matter what detours I take.

Because I am his, he will get me to where I'm supposed to be.

He will not let me stray so far as to be lost forever, and I know that he will, he will bring me safely home.

LVBPW hosts annual Equal Pay Day event

The annual Equal Pay Day event is held each year as a reminder that it takes an extra three and one-half months for women to make the same as our male counterparts do in 12 months. Women make 77 cents to every one dollar men make.

Pay equity is a growing national movement. States around the country are introducing pay equity legislation. Pay inequity penalizes families especially during times of economic hardships, so we must address it when trying to boost economy. At the rate we are going, the wage gap will not be eliminated until 2040. Women and their families cannot afford to wait much longer.

Licking Valley BPW thanks Cynthiana Mayor Steve Moses, County Judge Executive Alex

Barnett, Berry Mayor Kenneth Abner, and District 78 State Representative Tom McKee, for signing proclamations on April 16 after breakfast at Biancke's Restaurant declaring April 17 as Cynthiana-Berry-Harrison County Equal Pay Day.

Pay Day candy bars with a packet of Equal sugar substitute with information attached was given to each city, county and state official at the breakfast, and more to be given to their employees.

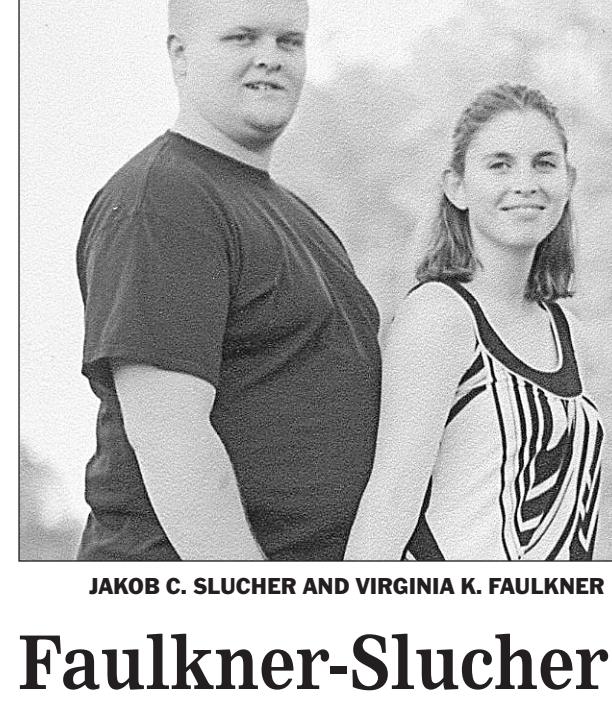

Licking Valley BPW Org. also received a signed proclamation by Gov. Steve Beshear declaring April 17 as Equal Pay Day across the state of Kentucky.

Also on April 16 Equal/Pay Day candy bar duo with EPD information attached were handed out at the Harrison County PVA, County Clerks office and Biancke's Restaurant. On April 17, the candy bars were given out at Family Fare Restaurant. And on April 20, they were distributed at the entrance of Walmart Supercenter.

The Licking Valley BPW's Equal Pay Day banner was hung at the courthouse from April 16-20 and informational letters were sent to the Cynthiana Democrat, WCYN Radio and Channel Six TV station to help introduce information to the community and for their support.

Equal Pay Day will be an annual event to highlight the need of changes to help women, mothers, daughters and granddaughters of the future.

A family tradition: Derby Day at the cabin

BY WHITNEY AND KATIE CONNER

In 1968, our great-grandmother, Sara Newton VanDeren was chatting with her friend and fellow teacher, Mary Ruth Hendricks, about a recipe she'd just read in the Courier-Journal. "I've never tried one of those," said Mary Ruth. "Well, come over tomorrow afternoon and we'll make a batch," replied Sara Newton. The day was May 3rd and the recipe was for a Mint Julep.

The next day, a group of a dozen or so friends and family congregated at the old two-story house on Leesburg-Newtown Road to sample the famous drink and watch the Run for the Roses. Two of Sara Newton and Edward VanDeren's five daughters and their families were there, Peggy and Julian Gray and Helen VanDeren Sams, along with Helen Battie, Johnny and Mary Ruth Hendricks, Bo and Lou Hoffman, and Jack and Mabel Shirley. During the party, the kids played in the yard and rode ponies.

To add excitement to the fete, there were jackpots for everyone to play. All of the horses names were written on paper, folded and placed in a cup. Party-goers paid $1 to draw a name and if the horse won, received the earnings from that pot. The impromptu party was a success and they decided to repeat the event the following year. Five years later, the party moved with Sara Newton to "The Log Cabin" on the lane off Finnell Pike, where it has been held ever since. This year will mark the 45th VanDeren Kentucky Derby Party, which now draws upwards of 150 guests each year.

No one quite remembers what food was served that first year – but today, the party begins with the food. On the Thursday or Friday before the Derby, a small group of friends and family gather around the dining table at the cabin and form an assembly line of benedictine and olive-nut sandwich-makers. Some cut the crust off of two pounds of white bread, others spread the filling inside. Everyone participates in the storytelling. Once finished, the sandwiches are stacked with efficiency into square tupperware containers and carted off to one of three or four refriger-erators required to hold all the party confections.

The preparations don't stop there. Up to a month before the party, chickens are being cooked, dough is being mixed, and countless trips to the grocery are made. Peggy and Helen make 300 chicken salad shells. Our sister, Lindsey Florence, whips up 150 pecan tassies, a task that once belonged to our mother, Kay Conner. Our aunt, Susan Hess, is in charge of 100 bite-sized cherry cheesecakes. Years ago, Sara Newt would make hundreds of beaten biscuits, topped with Uncle Howard Taylor's country ham. Today, our family friend, Viola Ritchie, has picked up the tradition, making 400 buttermilk biscuits to go with 10 pounds of ham. And then there's aunt Robin Gray's cocktail wienies and spinach dip, B.T. Mulligan's beer cheese, Peggy's dill dip with vegetables and a chipped-beef cheese ball. To top it all off, our Uncle Cecil Hess makes the signature drink, Mint Juleps.

The final preparations are made the morning of the party. of the cabin so that each guest TVs are placed in every room has a prime viewing spot during the two-minute race. The food trays are displayed on the table.

Red roses arrive and are staged at the door, next to the guest book. The $1 pots have been assembled and given to our cousins whose task it is to mingle about the crowd and tempt guests to join in the fun with promises that the winner is still in the pot. These jackpots were Sara Newton's favorite part of the day. She would sit and draw horse after horse during the party, and at the end of the day would share her earnings with her grandchildren, and later, great-grandchildren.

Patrons arrive mid-afternoon, coming from across the county, Sunrise to Connerville, and the country, New Hampshire to Texas, and stay well into the evening. When asked about their thoughts on the occasion, Bill Caywood and Phyllis Wyles said, "Year after year we gathered to pay tribute to Sara Newton and her fine family, yell for the horses, and indulge in libation most strong. Any regrets? Only that we can't start all over, for we've not finished talking - and bet others are just like us."

Derby Day, as we know it, is not only a Kentucky tradition, but a family tradition. Since moving out of the state, we've missed a few Christmas celebrations, but we've never missed a Derby. We've explained to co-workers that Derby Day is our favorite holiday and the remark is typically followed with questions about the atmosphere at the track and the celebrities on Millionaire's Row. It's hard to explain that we've never even considered going to the race, because the only place we want to be on Derby Day is The Cabin, in Leeslick.

Sara Newton VanDeren and her daughters, Peggy Gray, Helen Sams, and BT Mulligan all served as educators in the Harrison County School System, with over 130 years of service between them. Sarah Newt passed away in 1997, but her daughters continued her tradition for another 15 years. 2012 marks the 45th – and final – VanDeren Kentucky Derby Party.

This is the log cabin remodeled by Sara Newton VanDeren and her daughter Helen Sams. The cabin was built in the early 1800's.

Pruning chores after the big spring bloom

BY JENEEN WICHE, COLUMNIST

June 1 is the official cut off that marks the difference between a spring bloomer and a summer bloomer.

Does it matter that you know? Yes, if you want to properly prune because pruning after June 1 could result in no blooms next year.

This spring was a great one for spring bloomers: lilacs, viburnums, azaleas, rhododendrons and many others were all able to do their thing without a major frost or freeze here at the farm.

Our friends to the north may have experienced more cold pressure so pruning considerations may be in order to clean up some damage; for the rest of us pruning spring bloomers is a matter of general maintenance to keep shrubs in shape over the long term.

Many of our favorite spring bloomers invariably grow out of control so the question arises, "when is the best time to prune?"

If you want to maintain your spring blooms then pruning spring bloomers right after their blooms fade is the goal.

The rule of thumb that gardeners live by when it comes to pruning blooming shrubs: if it blooms before June 1 it blooms on buds set last year; if it blooms after June 1 it blooms on new growth from the current season.

Most spring flowering shrubs will have set all their buds for next year by this July.

Even if your shrub is still in good form a little pruning each year is not a bad idea because the pruning cuts stimulate new vigorous growth which keeps everyone looking good without a major overhaul.

If you have ever tried to tackle an old lilac or viburnum you will appreciate the wisdom here; over grown shrubs can be difficult to prune if they have gone too long without attention.

When pruning, set a goal that includes reducing size, thinning, and removing the oldest, dead or pest damaged wood.

Another rule of thumb is that we should only remove about 1/3 of a shrub at a time. All this pruning will encourage new, vigorous growth and will improve the overall appearance and health of an old shrub.

Summer blooming shrubs like spirea and weigelia can still be pruned, as well, although it is best to get this done in early spring.

Pruning now will delay your summer bloom a little but the act of pruning will encourage new growth and bloom.

Evergreens like boxwood, taxus and holly are best pruned after the threat of frost has passed in spring so you can still tackle the chore now to reduce size and thin the shrubs.

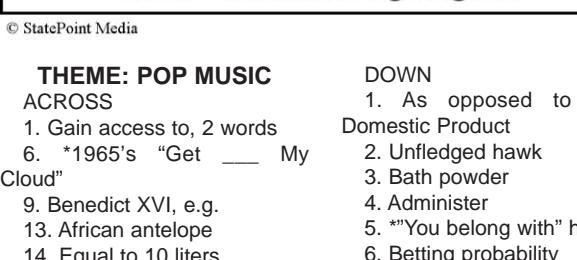

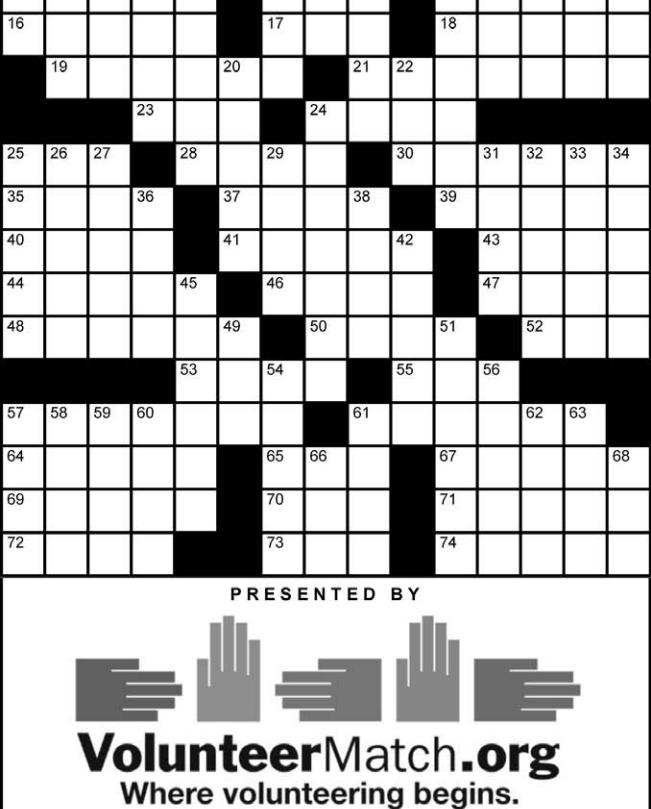

These evergreens will put out vigorous new growth after pruning so don't be afraid to do some hard pruning on these if major rejuvenation is needed.

Your next opportunity to thin and prune these evergreens is in late summer, early enough for the new growth (that is always stimulated after making a pruning cut) to harden off before our first frost.

While the recommendation for fertilizing woody plants is to do so in the fall of the year, spring bloomers and evergreens benefit from a little fertilization in the spring as they push new growth, bloom and set buds.

Most of these plants like a lower soil pH, as well, so some composted manure with a layer of pine straw mulch or a light application of a fertilizer formulated for acid-loving plants will help to maintain an agreeable soil pH.

There are some new seabased fertilizers for acid-loving plants that are formulated from lobster shell and seaweed, for example, if you are looking for an organic alternative.

Fillies have 19 hits in 12-4 win over Nicholas County

BY MIKE ALDRIDGE, SPORTS WRITER

The Nicholas County Lady Jackets came to Shirley Field on Tuesday night with a spotless 16-0 record having beaten all of the usual power teams in the region. All except one that is, the Harrison County Fillies.

The Fillies went on a hitting frenzy on this night with 19 hits, three doubles and 16 singles, to tally 12 runs in the intense battle that always takes place between the rivals.

Nicholas County scored in the first when starter Tracey Hicks walked lead off batter, Megan Bretz, and with two outs McKenzie Hopkins doubled to score Bretz with the first run.

Pitcher Emily Curran then singled Hopkins home and the Lady Jackets were up 2-0 after only one at bat.

The lead stood until the bottom of the fourth inning when the Fillies had six singles and a Sydney Motell double to score six runs.

Harrison County sent 10 players to bat in this inning.

Nicholas County rallied in the fifth off eighth grade pitcher Jami Davis who had replaced Hicks.

Reesa Martin led off with a single, advanced to second on a passed ball and scored on Hopkins' single.

After Curran's struck out, Shelby Wade singled and Whitney Willoughby lined out to short for the second out. Adrienne Letcher walked to load the bases, but Davis was able to strike out Katie Smith for the third out.

The Fillies didn't score in the bottom of the fifth and the Lady Jackets cut into the lead again in the sixth when Martin struck for her second of three singles on the day followed by singles by Hopkins and Wade to make the score 6-4 in favor of the Fillies.

In the bottom of the inning, Harrison County again batted around sending 11 batters to the plate.

Ashley Coppage and Morgan Florence each had doubles in the inning and five other Fillies singled as again Harrison County put six runs on the board for the final 12-4 margin.

Davis sat the Lady Jackets down in order in the top of the seventh.

Lucinda Boyers was four for four for the game to lead the hit parade.

Emalee Little and Florence each had three hits and Coppage, Hicks, Kecia Stephens and Davis all had two hits each.

Martin led the Lady Jackets with three hits while Hopkins, Wade and Curran added two hits each.

The win improved the Fillies record to 12-4-1 while the Lady Jackets suffered their first loss in 17 games. The Fillies are next in action Thursday as they host the Lady Royals of Mason County.

Breds whip Deming in double header, leash Greyhounds Tuesday 10-3

BY MIKE ALDRIDGE, SPORTS WRITER

The Harrison County Thorobreds improved the season record to 15-5 with wins on Monday and Tuesday nights on the Hilltop.

The Deming Black Devils were guests on Monday for a double header with the Thorobreds. Harrison County won the first game 17-3 and came back to take the nightcap 21-0, both games in five innings.

Sophomore Jordan Riley pitched the first game for Harrison County giving up four hits and three walks while striking out six.

Riley was solid in all innings except the second when Deming scored its three runs on three hits and a couple of free passes.

The Thorobreds played errorless baseball for the night to aid the pitching performances of both Riley and freshman Austin Reffett. Reffett improved his season record to 2-0 as he gave up only one hit, walked two and struck out eight in the five innings he worked in the nightcap.

Harrison County gathered 26 hits for the night including Hunter Hill's four-for-four performance and both Jordan Martin and Gus Garrison going three for four.

The losses give Deming a 4-8 record for the season.

The Paris game was much more of a battle as the Greyhounds took the lead in the second inning on a Jamaal Washington single, an error, a ground out and a wild pitch by starter Jeffrey Faulconer.

Paris held the lead until the bottom of the third when the Breds scored two times on two hits, a walk, four stolen bases, and a key error by Paris.

Senior Xavier Carter leads off from second last Friday as the Thorobreds baseball team staged a 6-5 come-from-behind win over Bath County on the Hilltop.

in the fourth off Faulconer when Ben Cooke walked, advanced to second on a wild pitch and moved up to third on a ground out.

After Faulconer was replaced by Xavier Carter, Cooke scored on an error to tie the game.

Harrison County put the game away in the fifth when they scored three times after two were out.

Jordan Martin reached on an error and advanced around to third on a wild pitch and a stolen base. Hunter Hill was hit by a pitch and stole second followed by a two-run single by Brandon Kendall.

After the single, Kendall advanced to third on two wild pitches and then stole home for the fifth Harrison County run.

When Justin Nutter sat the Paris batters down in the sixth, the Breds put five more runs on six hits on the board for the final 10-3 score.

Sophomore John King homered to make the game 6-3. This was followed by three straight singles by Cody Honeycutt, Carter and Martin scoring another run.

Hill popped out, Kendall doubled home two more runs and then scored the final run on a double by Paul Jones. Nutter pitched the final three innings to pick up the win.

The loss lowered the season record for Paris to 5-10. The next Harrison County action is Thursday when the Mason County Royals come to town for the opener of the Harrison Memorial/McDonald's/Judy Construction Classic.

MIKE'S MINUTE

'But he has been a model citizen for three years'

I had no clue how many people read my column. It's kind of like Let's Talk Sports on Saturday morning.

Patti can never figure out why people would listen to Ray and me, but too many people said something nice to her for her to deny it.

The same with the newspaper column. I had many people mention the little bit I put in last week about Mrs. Davis and it was all positive.

Of course, with Mrs. Davis it would have been hard to say otherwise, but people sometimes fool you.

Anyway, thanks for the nice words, but again it was the subject not the writer.

I am not an NBA fan at all though at this time of the year I find myself checking out the scores to see who is going to miss the playoffs and what coach is going to be fired because his group of millionaires under performed.

Even if one is not a fan, it would have been hard to miss the flagrant elbow that Ron Artest (Metta World Peace) hit James Harden with a couple of nights ago.

MWP had just made a basket in a show off (spectacular) way and was beating his chest attracting attention to himself, the way those great "team" players do, when Harden fell victim to the vicious attack.

MWP claims that he didn't see Harden and his apologists are defending him by saying things like "he has been good for three years," but Harden never the less is "day-to-day" as to his ability to play.

This business of defending people's actions with excuses like he's been good for three years is ridiculous.

MWP, when he was Ron Artest, was the player who jumped into the stands and was swinging wildly at fans in Detroit not so very long ago.

Someone poured a beer on him, which absolutely should not have been done, but to leap over the scorer's table and try to punch people is not too smart.

I wish people like Metta World Peace, Chad Ochocinco, and Roger Clemens would just go away or in the very least the national media would stop covering every thing they do.

First thing, when they change their name to something like Metta World Peace it might be a hint to where they want the attention to go.

Michelle Carson named NKU Player of the Week

Harrison County High School 2009 graduate Michelle Carson was named the Northern Kentucky University Player of the Week for the week ending April 21.

During this week, Carson was eight for 11 with a double, four RBI's and two runs scored as the Lady Norse completed a 6-2 week against Bellarmine, Cedarville, Indianapolis and St. Joseph. After spending much of her freshman season playing defense, Carson has found her hitting stroke and improved her average to .277 for the season to date. The Lady Norse have a 33-17 record this year.

Fence of Fame honors

This Friday night on the Hilltop, three of Harrison County's baseball finest were honored with having their name added to the Harrison County Baseball Fence of Fame last week on the Hilltop. Mark Clifford, Lee Kendall and Kiley

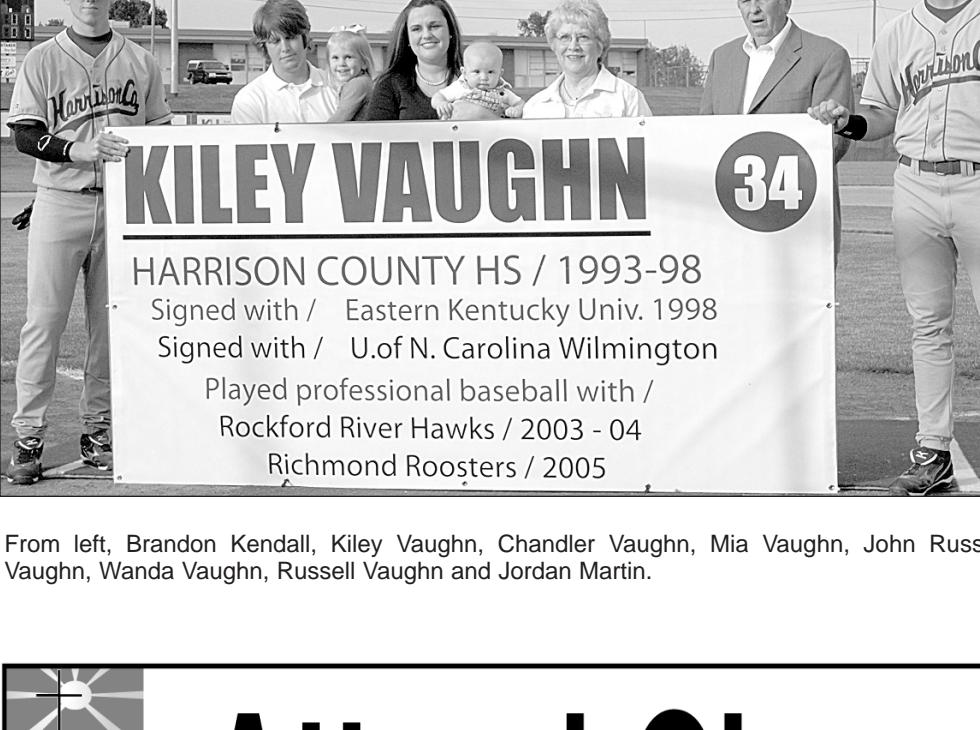

Vaughn will each become a member of the fence of honor.

The Fence of Fame honors former Breds baseball players and coaches for their outstanding contributions to the Breds baseball program.

Thorobreds first, Fillies third in Scott Co. meet

By MIKE ALDRIDGE, SPORTS WRITER

The Harrison County Thorobreds and Fillies with their squads nearly in tact showed why they are considered contenders in the region this year with a fine performance at Scott County last Tuesday.

The Thorobreds raced to a big win over seven other opponents in winning the meet with nearly 60 points more than the closest competitor.

Harrison County brought home eight first place finishes, six seconds and 11 third place finishes in dominating the event.

As usual, the relays belonged to Harrison County as they took first place in the 800M relay, the 1600M relay and the 3200M relay as well as third in the 400M relay and the 1600M relay.

Brandon Clarke and Campbell Hall were one, two in the 400M dash and Hall was second in the 100M dash.

Both also ran a leg in the 800M relay and the 1600M relay.

Joe Thomas won the 800M run was third in the 3200M run and ran a leg on the 3200M relay team.

Joey Faulconer won the 1600M run and the 3200M run to complete a very difficult duo of races.

In the 1600M race, the Breds finished first, third (Tyler Martin), fourth (Grant Carr), and eighth (Nick Slucher).

Martin, Carr and Slucher were also on the victorious 3200M relay team and Slucher ran a leg in the winning 1600M relay.

Daniel Klapheke was second in the 110M hurdles followed by Joey Pratt in third and third in the 300M hurdles with Pratt fourth.

Pratt also brought home a second in the long jump and a third in the triple jump.

Elijah Gross was victorious in his best event, the triple jump, with a leap of 40 feet, 3 inches and third in the high jump.

Scott Kendall was second in the high jump and ran a leg in the third place 400M relay team.

Other third place finishers were Taylor Bolin in the pole vault, Dominic Walker in the discus and Jeffrey Hunter in the long jump.

"We are starting to put things together," noted Coach Robert Walker. "After the meets this week we should have all of the runners in the races we want them and be ready to make a run at the region."

Scott County and Western Hills each finished in front of the Fillies in the nine-team competition.

The only event in which the Fillies were victorious was the 3200M relay ran by Hannah Thomas, Bailey Caudill, Morgan Puckett and Katelyn Horschler.

The girls grabbed second in three events with Caylin Mattox second in the 110M hurdles, the 800M relay team of Jessica Alas, Haley Carr, Mia Lail and Kinsey Lesak in the runner-up slot, and the 1600M relay team (Thomas, Carr, Lesak and Taylor Fry) also in second place.

Lail was third in the 100M hurdles, Carr was third in the 300M hurdles and Kiana Walker took third in the triple jump.

Hannah Thomas was fourth in the 400M dash, Lail was fourth in the long jump, Carr was fourth in the 100M hurdles and Natasha Ingram was fourth in the discus and shot put.

"We can do better," said Coach Danny Simpson. "I was encouraged by many of the performances, but time is growing short. Times are improving and there is promise in the field events but we just need to keep working and improving."

The next event for the track teams was Wednesday at Tates Creek followed by the Harrison County Invitational on Saturday at the athletic complex.

Tennis squads lose close match to Campbell Co., also battle Cardinals

By MIKE ALDRIDGE, SPORTS WRITER

The Harrison County Thorobreds and Fillies tennis teams continued the season Tuesday as they traveled to Campbell County to play the host Camel tennis squads.

The Fillies lost to the Lady Camels 1-4 as only the doubles team of Katie O'Neal and Bryson Clifford were able to get past the opponent.

They took out the Lady Camel's duo of Baker and Clark 8-6.

Sara Barnett in No. 1 singles was close as she narrowly lost to Russell 4-8.

The Thorobreds were closer as they fell by a 2-3 score to the Camels.

The No. 1 singles player and the No. 1 doubles pair were able to defeat the opposition but the rest of the team couldn't find a way for one more match victory.

Charlie Smith beat C. Johnson 6-2, 6-2 for his win and the doubles pair of Wes Barnett and Jacob Markley won 6-3, 6-3.

The No. 2 doubles team of Austin Roberts and Johnny Mitchell were narrowly defeated 2-6, 3-6 in what could have been the deciding match for the team victory.

Thursday evening the George Rogers Clark Cardinals and Lady Cards were the guests on the Hilltop. Harrison County's Fillies lost to the Lady Cards 1-4 with Alycia Schaum winning her singles match 8-5.

The Fillies were close in two of the doubles matches as O'Neal and Clifford lost 4-8 and Hallie Adams and Lindsay Rose fell 3-7.

The Thorobreds were defeated 0-5 by the Cardinals losing badly in the singles but giving good accounting for themselves in the doubles.

The duos of Aaron Tackett/Eric Hushfield and Austin Merriman/Brett Hill lost by the narrow margin of 6-8.

The next scheduled match for the tennis team is Thursday at home facing Bourbon County.

Breds fall in Winchester, rally past Bath County

By MIKE ALDRIDGE, SPORTS WRITER

When a team's starting pitcher goes the distance, striking out 10 batters and walking none, the chances of that team winning should be good.

That was not the case Thursday night in Winchester as the Harrison County Thorobreds lost to George Rogers Clark, 7-3.

The home-standing Cardinals gathered nine hits off Brandon Kendall and took advantage of four Thorobred errors as they scored their seven runs, four of which were earned.

The Thorobreds on the other hand were putting together eight hits, all singles, but were victims of two GRC double plays.

Harrison County struck first in the top of the third as they scored three times on three hits and a Cardinal error.

Justin Nutter led off the inning with a single, advanced to third on an error and scored on Xavier Carter's single. Carter and Jordan Riley, who was on base due to the error, scored on Jordan Martin's two run single. GRC got one of the runs back in the bottom of the inning as they scored an unearned run on two hits and an error.

The Cardinals got to Kendall in the bottom of the fourth when with one out they hit back-to-back doubles, a batter reached on an error and the next batter hit the third double of the inning.

In all, the Cardinals scored four times in the fourth. The fifth inning saw the home team put up two more runs for the final 7-3 margin as they sandwiched a double between two singles.

The loss lowered the season record for Harrison County to 11-5 while George Rogers Clark won their seventh straight game to even their record at 7-7.

Friday night on the Hilltop was a special night as Mark

Clifford, Lee Kendall and Kiley Vaughn were honored by being added to the Fence of Fame. Many family members and former Breds including former coach Don Snopek were on hand to honor the newest Fence of Fame members.

Snopek, who many credit for the beginning of the great Harrison County baseball program, presented the awards along with current Harrison County coach Mac Whitaker.

Whitaker, who is a former National Coach of the Year, presented Snopek to the fans prior to the newest inductees being introduced.

Senior Justin Nutter pitched the first four innings for Harrison County giving up five runs on six hits and five bases on balls.

Nutter's lack of control was an issue all night for him as he was behind on most counts throughout his innings pitched.

The Bath County squad struck first in the second when they put together a couple of singles around a Harrison County error to score a run. Harrison County evened the score in the bottom of the second on a Kendall double and a John King single.

The Wildcats went wild in the third as Jordan Highley led off with a home run to make the score 2-1.

Nutter then hit a batter, walked another and gave up a second home run in the inning, this time to South Whitt.

Whitt's three-run blast made the score 5-1 in favor of the visiting Wildcats.

The Breds battled back in the bottom of the inning scoring two runs on two hits and a key Bath County miscue to make the score 5-3 after three innings.

Harrison County crept even closer in the fourth as a little "small ball" resulted in a run. Senior Paul Jones singled, advanced on a walk to King and a sacrifice by Nutter. He then scored on a ground out to move the score to 5-4.

Bath County loaded the bases with no one out in the top of the fifth off Nutter and Coach Whitaker brought in Xavier Carter from shortstop to stop the bleeding.

Carter did just that as he struck out the side and did not allow a run.

As is often the case, after an outstanding performance in the field, Carter led off the bottom of the fifth and promptly singled to right.

Catcher Hunter Hill then walked and Jordan Martin singled in Carter with the tying run.

Kendall walked and Jones grounded out to force Hill in with the winning run in the 6-5 Thorobreds win.

Carter finished the game for Harrison County allowing two hits, walking one and striking out five Wildcats in a clutch performance.

Carter was also three for four at the plate as he and Martin were the only Breds with multiple hits.

The junior Martin was two for three with a walk for the game.

The victory gives Harrison County a 12-5 record.

Fillies beat Walton Verona, romp past Brossart in five innings

By MIKE ALDRIDGE, SPORTS WRITER

Thursday night the Harrison County Fillies visited northern Kentucky to play one of the better teams in the 9th Region, the Lady Bearcats of Walton Verona. The No. 20 rated Lady Bearcats feature a veteran line up along with a talented sophomore hurler.

The Fillies started slowly with three of the first six batters striking out against the sophomore Hannah Thacker.

Walton Verona scored what was to be its only run in the first off eighth grade pitcher Jami Davis when lead off right fielder Amber Watkins reached on an error and came around to score on a Jenalee Ginn single.

The Fillies threatened in the third when Morgan Grose hit a one-out single and Emalee Little sacrificed her to second. Morgan Florence walked but Thacker was able to strike out Tracey Hicks to end the inning.

Walton Verona also advanced a runner to third in the third but stranded her with a strike out to end the inning.

The Fillies scored all three of their runs in the fourth. Ashley Coppage opened with a single and Kecia Stephens and Davis followed suit to load the bases.

After a strike out, Shelby Ishmael hit a hard grounder to second that senior Kirsten Anderson could not handle and Coppage scored the tying run.

Thacker then walked Grose to force in the second run and Little singled in Davis to wrap up the scoring.

Walton Verona only got one more hit after the fourth and the Fillies came away with a hard fought 3-1 win.

"Jami pitched about as good a game as I've seen her throw," commented Coach Christine Garnett. "She hit her spots and changed speeds masterfully."

On Monday night, the Fillies headed back to the north, this time to face region rival Bishop Brossart.

The Lady Mustangs entered the game with a good 12-5 record although they were coming off a less-than-productive visit over the weekend to Whitley County where they went 1-2 in a tournament. Monday things didn't get any better for the home team.

Fillies' catcher Florence led off the game with a single and it was six batters and four runs later before the Lady Mustangs could record an out.

That out was a sacrifice bunt deftly laid by Sydney Motell to score Stephens from third.

After a ground out to the pitcher for the second out seventh grader Courtney Newsom singled in Davis for the fifth run. The Fillies batted around in the opening inning.

Brossart began the bottom half of the first with a single but Davis struck out the next two batters and induced the clean up hitter Maria Greis to hit back to her and the small threat was over.

The Fillies picked up three more in the second with two outs to push the lead to 8-0.

Coppage homered on a 2-2 count for the first run. Stephens doubled, Davis drew a walk and Motell drove in two more runs with a double to end the second inning.

Brossart was only able to put two more runners on base in the five-inning game with a walk and a single in the fourth. Again in this threat, Davis struck out a key batter and got a ground out to end the inning. In all Davis gave up two hits, one walk and struck out seven Lady Mustangs.

Brossart changed pitchers in the third but it was more of the same as the Fillies scored another run in the third, four in the fourth and three more in the fifth including Coppage's second home run of the game.

The Fillies struck for 17 hits in the contest including the two home runs and four doubles to over power Bishop Brossart.
